Dear Parents/Carers

As you have probably heard over the last few days and weeks, dozens of children's toys containing sand have been recalled from stores across the UK due to risk of asbestos contamination.

More than 100 products, including sand art activity kits, stretcher toys, and a candle-making set, were pulled from shops between January and April this year.

The Entertainer, Early Learning Centre, Aldi, Hobbycraft, Morrisons, Matalan, B&M, and Tesco are among the stores where the toys were being sold.

We therefore would ask that no child brings any toys from home that may contain sand into school.
